

Integrium Names Richard Caroddo Director of Business Development

TUSTIN, CA, September 7, 2006 – Integrium, a leading contract research organization (CRO) in the cardiovascular and metabolic areas, today announced the promotion of Richard Caroddo to Director of Business Development. In this role, Richard will lead Integrium’s activities establishing and expanding service relationships with biopharmaceutical clients and will direct the business development team in this process. Richard has been with the company for 4 years and he was previously the Associate Director of the business development group.

“Richard brings in-depth business development experience, strong industry relationships, and an exceptional knowledge base to this important role,” says Eileen McAuley, Vice President of Operations. “His leadership skills and strategic planning acumen will contribute to Integrium’s continued positioning as a prominent CRO partner of choice for biopharmaceutical companies active in the cardiovascular and metabolic areas.”

Richard has over thirteen years of experience in the pharmaceutical and healthcare industries. This experience includes significant business development and contracting activity with biopharmaceutical companies and healthcare providers. He is an active speaker on clinical development topics at industry conferences and has published a number of articles in the area. Richard received a Master of Public Administration degree from Columbia University and a Bachelor of Science degree from the State University of New York at Albany.

Integrium is a premier full-service contract research organization (CRO) for clinical trials in the cardiovascular and metabolic areas. The company provides biopharmaceutical clients with strong operational capabilities and in-depth clinical expertise in support of cardiovascular and metabolic development programs. Integrium was founded by three physician researchers in 1998 and supports trials on a domestic and multinational basis. Please visit www.integrium.com for more information.
